Altai Becoming a Friend of Ecology in Panama

Located in Veraguas of Panama, Finca FZ is an ecology project invested by a Panamanian family for ecology preservation purpose since 2014. The family has reforested 17 hectares of lands with hardwood of the highest value in the international market and established a nursery for timber and fruit trees and a self-subsistent family garden supplied with fruits and vegetables. The farm is open for guided tours, hiking and cultivation experience.

To ensure the visitors can obtain botanical knowledge easily and learn the most from the nature environment, Finca FZ has deployed wireless network across the preserved land. Visitors are welcome to scan the QR codes scattered around the land and retrieve information of specific species of trees. Altai is very proud to be one of the selected vendors supporting this meaningful ecological project. With Altai's APs in place, tourists to this ecology paradise are now connected to the nature.
